Reading Board of Directors Names Kevin Handerhan Next Curriculum Supervisor

READING, PA — The Reading School District Board of Directors has named Kevin Handerhan as the district's next curriculum supervisor.

Currently serving as the assistant middle school principal in the Fleetwood Area School District, Handerhan has been responsible for leading professional development initiatives and implementing positive behavioral interventions and supports, as well as restorative practices.

"I am thrilled for the incredible opportunity to serve the Reading School District as curriculum supervisor," said Handerhan. "I look forward to applying my expertise in curriculum development to optimize student learning and engagement, along with staff development. I look forward to meeting and working with our students, staff, and families soon."

Prior to his current role, Handerhan held positions as an eighth-grade mathematics teacher and seventh-grade social studies teacher within Fleetwood ASD. He earned a master's degree in educational leadership from Lipscomb University and is pursuing a doctoral degree in educational and organizational leadership from Holy Family University.

"We are delighted to welcome Kevin Handerhan to our team and are confident that his expertise will elevate our curriculum and bolster academic success for our students," said Superintendent Dr. Jennifer Murray. "His dedication to student engagement and success align perfectly with our goal of fostering a dynamic learning environment."

Handerhan will officially begin his role as curriculum supervisor of the Reading School District on October 16, 2023.
